DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to applicant's amendment filed August 17, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 4, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the original disclosure for the negative limitation that there is "no electrical conductors...opposite the side where all electrodes are formed." See MPEP 2173/05(i) (citing Ex parte Grasselli, 231 USPQ 393 (Bd. App. 1983), aff'd mem., 738 F.2d 453 (Fed. Cir. 1984) (The mere absence of a positive recitation is not basis for an exclusion)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2813

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Eichelberger (U.S. 5,841,193).

Eichelberger (Fig. 5e, 10) discloses an intermediate semiconductor device fabrication structure comprising: an electronic chip component (502) having all electrodes (504, 110) formed above and therefor on one surface thereof, side walls (not labeled; perpendicular to surface with contacts) thereof being covered with a protective material (506) and wherein there is neither substantially or no protective material¹ (e.g., item 506 only on sides) located on one surface of the chip where all the electrodes are secured, with solder bumps (510) on each electrode, with back surface of chip and protective material at a common level.

With respect to the process limitations, such as "electrodes... secured to adhesive," "protective material...grinded or polished to a common level" and "...chip diced at a position of said protective material," the prior art product is the same as the claimed invention, which results in a single chip package that has protective material its side walls with two surfaces free from the protective material and electrodes on one of the surfaces. "[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process.” In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art discloses the use of a particular protective material on the sides of a chip, while not having that protective material on the surface with electrodes.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
